

PEANUT

Peanut was seized in the largest dogfighting ring in U.S. history. She then spent much of her life in a kennel as "evidence." Peanut is a dainty and absolutely adores people. She would make a great pet for anyone from a senior citizen to a family with children. She is extremely sweet and pretty small in stature.

Peanut's foster has a lot to say about her great attitude!

“Her first day at the house she was happy to explore around inside and out. ...In regards to her activity, we started off with 2-3 walks a day only around the block, because that's all it seems she could manage. Today, a week later, we had a great 2 hour walk checking out the neighborhoods!then shopping at Home Depot.”

“She has the most gentle manner I have ever seen in a dog. She doesn't try to push any door or screen or gate open, just waits for you to do it for her. Treats are taken very gently and she is so very patient for food, while people are talking, etc. She loves to snuggle up and she's got blankets and pillows all over the house for her. Yesterday she slept on a bed of rose petals! Ridiculous, but why not! When it's cold out, she wears her fleece reindeer outfit to stay warm and look cute. She does wonderfully in the car. ...I have taken her with me to a job site, where she stayed in the car and afterwards we went on a short hike in the canyon hills and she just sticks by my side.”
