

¿Cuál es la diferencia entre una mascota y un perro residente?

Todos los dueños de perros son responsables de cuidar a sus perros. Tiene en cuenta las diferencias entra perros residentes y mascotas.

Un Perro Residente

Un perro residente vive afuera o separado de su familia, como en una jaula para perros. No tiene interacciones habituales con su familia. Debido a la falta de las interacciones, no aprende a comportarse bien.

Esta aislamiento cambia el comportamiento del animal.

Una Mascota

Una mascota forma parte de la familia. Son perros que viven cerca de su familia. A causa de las relaciones positivas con su familia, una mascota aprende el comportamiento adecuado.

Cuando hacemos responsables a los dueños de perros, tendremos comunidades más seguras y humanas.

Resident dog vs. Family dog

WHAT IS THE DIFFERENCE?

All dog owners are responsible for the dogs in their care. Consider the difference between Resident dogs and Family dogs:

Windsor as a Resident dog.

Windsor as a Family dog.

A RESIDENT DOG

Resident dogs are dogs, whether confined within a dwelling or otherwise, whose owners maintain them in ways that isolate them from regular, positive human interactions.

The isolation and lack of exposure to the family unit results in the display of behaviors different from Family dogs.

A FAMILY DOG

Family dogs are dogs whose owners keep them in or near the home and also integrate them into the family unit, so that the dogs learn appropriate behavior through interaction with humans on a regular basis in positive and humane ways.

We will achieve safer, more humane communities when we hold owners of all dogs accountable to high standards of humane care, custody, and control.
